

GET READY...

Are you ready?

You can see Camelot shining on a hillside – you know that all who live within its high walls are finding true happiness through striving for fulfillment, wisdom and success.

This is the journey before the journeys, the adventure before the adventures, the quest to begin all quests. We are searching for True Galahads. Is it you? We need you to find your true self; dress in your best armor, bring your book of spells, arm yourself for battle and be ready to slay dragons and begin your journey toward your dreams.

When you have completed this quest you will be ready to apply to become a Galahad. You will own your successes, have learned from your failures, understand your skills, evaluate your current position and set out before you a glittering future. This journey to find your True Self is the quest you are about to undertake – are you kick-ass?

Until you know who you are, you will never know if you are who you want to be.
